Job Application for Senior Web Operations Engineer

Dear Ms. Cooney,

About Me

You may think I have chosen this cover letter & CV color scheme by random, but that's not the case. I have chosen orange for two reasons, one and most important is Etsy logo, and the other is because orange is one of the colors of Ireland's flag. Orange is also a color full of vitality, enthusiasm and fun!

This is one of my main personal qualities, I love to pay attention to details. Details make the difference between good and great. Another of my qualities is playing and working as a team, as there are no losers on a winning team, and no winners on a losing team.

Furthermore I have the confidence and perseverance to get things done, because it is not about how many things you start, it is about how many you finish, always enjoying along the way!

Why Etsy?

Etsy is the type of company which gives me the opportunity to participate in a challenging environment, where I can learn from others and collaborate in an innovative manner.

I love the culture of transparency at Etsy, where people is the most valuable asset for the company.

Etsy is a great place to work, plenty of talented people from different cultures around the world.

Why Me?

The position of Senior Web Operations Engineer aligns with my skills and experience. I am enthusiastic about expanding my knowledge in systems performance, network protocols, security among other non-technical interesting topics!

I am also the kind of critical and analytical person that is always looking for improving previously established methods, providing new solutions and ideas.

Sincerely,

Jorge Rúa Riveiro
